S O N A L I G U P T A

With a wild heart to always explore more and try new adventures, I seek places where I am introduced to something new. To follow the same old is not what excites me. I believe in grabbing opportunities to their best and exploiting it to the best of abilities. With a happy heart, I am up with meeting new people and always ready to exchange ideas. Respect to different perceptions of people, I tend to grab as much information I can from new environment and hence new people. The best to be achieved, one should give heart and soul to it. With this motto, for the things I love and that interests me, I tend to pour myself entirely into it. To love what you work for and work for what you love, is something I follow religiously. A little of child at heart and a little of curious mind, I am a free soul always eager to learn more and explore.
