About Me

My name is Mehlam Makda. I am doing my bachelours in architecture and a self taught programmer in my twenties from CEPT University, Ahmedabad

I started doing what I do by now about three years ago, to fulfill my need for exploring new things. My skills of computation and programming constantly help me think in new direction for some old architecture problems. I am fluent in AutoCad, Rhino, Grasshopper, Blender, Lumion and Abode Suit.

Over the last years I have devoted my interest in politics, sociology, economy and tried to gather knowledge about different areas outside my practice to truly understand the implications of each project, however I do not intend to become a theorist
